C., Kuld, the crack auctioneer of the Blue-grass region, Turnished us with the following reregion, furnished us with the following report: There were about five hundred head of cattle on the market, principally of Inferior grades. Only one lot of first class two-year olds were offered, they belonging to Mr. Wathing, of Washington county, weighing ten hundred and fify pounds, and sold at $66 15 per head. Medium two-year olds sold at 6 cents. Yearlings sold as high as $40. On the beginning of the market bidders were few and reluctant to take hold. Toward noon bidding was more spirited and the demand good.

About 290 head of mules were offered, but the prices obtained were not so good as at last court, doubtless owing to the inferior quality. Mr. Warner, of Illineis, had a lot of sged which he said he offered as a feeler. They brought $125 per head, and common two-year olds $110. A few days ago an unknown man came up to near the mouth of Platte river. Mo, in a skiff and took up his abode between some ricks of cord-wrod on the banks of the river. He formed to acquisitances and remained frecognito. He was at last found by some of the neighbors lying processue and apecchless upon the earth. Mr. Courad Fisher, a mear neighbor, took him to his house and cared for him until he died. He never spoke and was unknown to any person in the vicinity. Upon his person was found a strip of paper, upon which was written the name "William Low." The body was buried at Parkyille last Stunday.

It is white men that are doing all this, and the mischievens work will be on as long as the Radical party remains in power. If the negro is for the present acting with that party for a very valuable consideration, that is no reason why we should make war on him or try to deprive him of anything it has conferred upon him. An overwhelming majority of our people are willing to cooperate in the restoration of our government to its former basis of local self-legislation, provided this can be effected without depriving the negro of freedom or profection or the right to a fair trial as a voter. On this basis the Constitution can be wrested from the spoilers and conspirators whose pastime it is to test and patch it, and with this understanding the Democratic party will be commissioned to restore the old regime of lawful administration, constitutional legislation, and local self-government.

There is but one way to receil our government from the lawless and reckiess career of usurpation faito which the Radicals are urging it. There is but one way to correct any of the abuses which they have introduced. Track-laying will be begun on the Louislans and Missouri River railroad about the last of September from Louislans, Mo., to Moxico, Audran. county, about fifty miles.

There seems to be no abatement in the invertigation of the South. Testerday morning seventy-five through passengers came in on the New Orean express train via the Louisville and Nashville railroad.
